

STAND OUT STYLE

Kitchen Design Manager Alison Hornby at Oceans Kitchens and Bathrooms guides us through creating a stylish luxury kitchen using a mix of natural materials and finishes

Our brief was to create a sociable luxury kitchen ideal for entertaining in a Welsh Slate topped stone walled barn conversion.

I consider us fortunate because we have such a good relationship with Rempp Küchen that we can ask them to manufacture any bespoke furniture that a design requires, if I can draw it, Rempp will make it. This kitchen installation is certainly a case in point.

We are seeing an increase in demand for a variety of finishes enabling the kitchen to feel more like a piece of furniture. Well-designed high-quality kitchens from Germany offer a different perspective on how a kitchen should look and function. For us to fulfill our client's brief it was necessary for us to make one large area by knocking the existing kitchen and dining room into one.

This kitchen features furniture in 3 different finishes, Toronto Matt Lacquer in White Alpin, Stone Veneer in Slate Black and Arco Timber Veneer in Wild Oak Honey all from Rempp. The breakfast bar and table are made from solid Danish oak and the worktops are Quartz.

To emphasize the contemporary style of this stunning kitchen the furniture doors have a continuous stainless-steel rail and for convenience pop-up power sockets are built into the worktops. The copper tones in the doors compliment the copper downlights sourced by our client.

The layout makes a fantastic space which is perfect for entertaining and cooking at the same time, long gone are the days of nipping into the kitchen to check on the food then nipping back into the lounge to pick up the conversation from where you left off, cooking has become a sociable event.
